Lia Quirina

Born on 2000 in Vienna

Lia Quirina is moving in the field of art, culture and education. She* is currently studying “Contextual Painting (Ashly Hans Scheirl)” at the department of Fine Arts as well as “Art and Education” and “Design and Context” at the department of Education in the Arts at the Academy of Fine Arts in Vienna.

Through working interdisciplinary with different media such as performance, painting, sculpture, writing and film, she* is reflecting about society, community and gender. Her* approach to the art field is to cooperate and interact with other artists. Since 2016 she* is an active member of St. Pölten based arts and culture association “LAMES”. Currently together with the curator Dr. Andrea Domesle she* establishes the public art project “videocity” in Austria. In cooperation with the artist Valerie Holfeld, she* is working on the workshop “Performance, Kostüm & Chaos” and a performance project. Teamed up with the filmmaker and photographer Ian Gladilin she* is shooting a documentary about the recent developments at the “Verein für Kunst, Kultur und Natur am Spratzerner Kirchenweg 81-83 (LAMES/Sonnenpark)”.
